BOW ISLAND

From our own Correspondent

The supreme court has decided that newspaper is not a necessity of life, for when the paper is not a necessity of life, it can have no jurisdiction over its disposition or sale price. This probably means a jump in the price of newspaper and famine conditions for many small papers.

Mr. Danielson's son of Bow Island returned home last week after spending the greater part of the winter in the States.

Bob Law spent a few days in Lethbridge last week.

Mr. P. LaMarche was a business visitor to Bow Island last Friday.

Mr. W. Currie of Good Cheer was a business visitor to town last Friday.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. E. A. Adair is sick in bed at present, but her many friends hope to see her around soon again.

Mr. Ed. Downer and Terrence Ingulph are busy getting fixed up preparing to move to their farm for the spring work with their tractor, so boys just watch their steam fly.

John and Alfred Adair were to the Boy Scouts meeting a couple of times as visitors, they expect to join in the near future, good luck to them for we are looking forward to your coming.

Mrs. Mary A. Adair who lives north of town has gone to Whittla to visit her daughter Mrs. Earl Gillett and son John to attend to some business in regard to having her farm worked. This summer, all old friends wish her success and a happy visit.

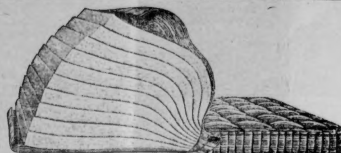

Mrs. Will Little has been on the sick list for some time, all her friends hope to see her around soon.

Miss Minnie Sevald of 11 miles south of town has been the guest of Mrs. E.E. Layman and visiting old and neighbors.

Recently while breaking in a colt Charles Thompson had the misfortune to be thrown out of the buggy and of course the horse ran away but was later captured near Charles Johnson's farm.

Miss Ida Sevald of Lethbridge has been down to visit her parents during the Easter holidays.

We hear that Mrs. Max Layman and little son who were very low at the time the husband and little son died, have been moved to Burdett and are slowly recovering from their attack of the flu their many friends will be glad to see them enjoy good health for we never know how to appreciate health until it is gone.

A Big Western Problem

It is, of course, merely a trite observation, and a statement of what everybody knows, to declare that the Western Prairie Provinces of Canada have many difficult problems to solve in order to promote their maximum growth in population, wealth and general development. Neither time nor space would permit of even a mere recapitulation of the various and complex problems, not to speak of an intelligent consideration of even a few of them.

Asked to name the first and foremost question demanding attention by the people of the West, would, no doubt, be as varied as they would be interesting. Some would say a larger population in order to develop the country, increase their production, and assist to bear the expense of the public services. Others would urge full provincial control of the natural resources in order that the vast and undeveloped for use. Others, again, would lay emphasis upon the assimilation of the foreign-born into a broad and true Canadian citizenship. Better schools and a more general education for all classes would be advocated. Some would say tariff reform, or cheaper money, were the main desiderata to a betterment of conditions; while others, again, would lay stress upon social, moral and religious issues. Some practical minds would say more branch lines of railways, better roads, and a general improvement in all means of transportation. And to a greater or less degree all these things are necessary to the welfare, growth and prosperity of the Prairie Provinces. There can be no question about that. But at the present time there looms a problem the solution of which would first appear to be necessary without loss of time if many of these other questions are to be satisfactorily settled. And in some respects it is the most difficult of all our problems.

We refer to the need of solving the difficulties, we might almost say the disastrous conditions, confronting thousands of settlers by reason of the drought which has afflicted sections of the West during the last three years. So long as these conditions continue a black eye is given to immigration to this country because the last advertisement thus given western Canada abroad has an adverse effect on the securing of that larger population we need and must have. It affects the credit of our people, stops railway development, and imposes heavy burdens upon municipalities and governments. Something better than the provision of temporary relief to the direct solution is to be found in a radical change in farming methods in these districts, and the substitution of other crops, in part at least, for all grain crops which have, for the most part, been attempted in the past. It is asserted that even in these drought afflicted areas, a few farmers have been able to succeed, where the majority have failed, by reason of the fact that they followed other methods.

In the years of drought, there was not held the fallow of grain crops, but also of grass, with the result that there was neither food for man nor feed for stock. On the other hand, some farmers were successful in these years of lack of moisture in raising green corn and other kinds of feed for stock when even the grasses failed. What they succeeded in doing, their neighbors could also do.

It is suggested, therefore, and wisely so it would seem, that steps should be taken to bring the actual experience of these men, and the methods followed by them, to the knowledge of the people generally in the districts referred to, not by books or pamphlets, but by these men telling the story of their experiences and warning to groups of farmers throughout these areas.

It is also being urged that the combined knowledge of the agricultural experts of the country should be brought to bear in an effort to solve this problem. These experts and scientific agriculturists on experimental farms, and in the various varieties of grain in order to escape the loss occasioned by frosts. Following this line they have met with splendid success, and the loss from frost, which formerly was a constant dread of the farmer, has been enormously decreased. Has this time not arrived when the energies of all these men should be turned into the channel of endeavoring to evolve a drought-resisting variety of wheat and other grains?

There are countries even more seriously affected with drought than western Canada, which, nevertheless, are succeeding agriculturally. Surely from these lands varieties of grain can be secured to be tested experimentally here.

Something must be done, and done soon, to create new conditions in the areas referred to, or else they will have to be abandoned as unfitted for agricultural settlement, with all that will mean, not only in individual loss to the people there, but to the whole country. It is impossible to go on, hoping against hope that next year will yield a crop, and in the event of disappointment reliance upon the government for food, fuel, clothing and next season's seed, and the removal of stock to greener pastures. The country has about reached the end of its unsatisfactory policy; something more permanent, more constructive, that will not keep hope into men's hearts, must be forthcoming.

Completing Hudson Bay Line

The Winnipeg board of trade has been notified by the federal government that it will cost $4,000,000 to complete the Hudson Bay Railway. Up to the present, 332 miles of the line have been built and about 90 miles of track are still required to bring the road to its ocean terminus at Port Nelson. The Dominion government is not yet in a position to say how much money it will be able to devote to the Bay line this year. The West is pressing for completion.

Our Senses Are Untrustworthy

Scientific Development Is Making Rapid Strides in These Modern Days

Though many disagree with the views held by Oliver Lodge, he is also of grass, with the result that there was neither food for man nor feed for stock. On the other hand, some farmers were successful in these years of lack of moisture in raising green corn and other kinds of feed for stock when even the grasses failed. What they succeeded in doing, their neighbors could also do.

It is suggested, therefore, and wisely so it would seem, that steps should be taken to bring the actual experience of these men, and the methods followed by them, to the knowledge of the people generally in the districts referred to, not by books or pamphlets, but by these men telling the story of their experiences and warning to groups of farmers throughout these areas.

The country has about reached the end of its unsatisfactory policy; something more permanent, more constructive, that will not keep hope into men's hearts, must be forthcoming.

The subject is much too vast for more than mention, and those who are sufficiently interested should read what has been written on it by the men of science named in the foregoing — there is quite a voluminous literature to be consulted. But, recently, another surprise has been sprung, quite as significant as any previous theory of the ether, electrons and matter, and of this there is as yet little to be learned from books, it being the last-born of science. — Winnipeg Free Press.

Wireless for Irish Cities

Cutting of Telegraph and Telephone Wires Causing Trouble in Ireland

In consequence of the frequency with which telephone and telegraph wires in Ireland are being cut, the government has decided on an extensive use of wireless telegraphy there, says the Daily Mail.

Naval signals are being employed to start the system and the newspaper intimates that portable telephones with a radius of about 30 miles are being employed in transmitting messages from one police station to another or between adjacent towns. It is asserted that the system has proved satisfactory.

Canadian Flax

Trade Growing

Proposed to Encourage the Establishment of Spinning Mills in Canada

At a meeting of the Canadian Flax-Growers' Association, held in London, Ontario, recently, the members discussed a plan to extend the organization.

It was pointed out that the acreage under flax has been more than doubled since the start of the war, and the quality of the Canadian seed and fiber demonstrated not only in Ireland, but all over the world. In view of this it is proposed to encourage the establishment of spinning mills in Canada on a large scale; also to encourage experienced weavers to come from Ireland and start the industry on a sound basis. The final decision on this matter was left over until the June meeting. Several growers are in favor of having the flax seed graded. They will ask the Dominion government to impose such restrictions on the sale of flax that the quality of all Canadian seed put on the world market will be the best possible.

Exchange Situation
Impetus for Settlers

Americans Taking Good Advantage Of Rate of Exchange in Buying Farms

One of the results of the present high Canadian exchange has been made apparent during the last few weeks. Americans intending to settle in Western Canada are leaving the United States sooner than they planned and in much larger numbers than was expected. The exchange situation has proved a stimulant to American settlement in Western Canada, because the settlers find they can gain from $125 to $4 an acre in purchasing land. Many Americans who had purchased farms when exchange was normal, and had money in the banks, have taken advantage of the low quotation of Canada's money, and cleared off their deferred payments, making a large saving.

Americans of means are paying cash for their farms. With the rate of exchange as it is today, the saving on a quarter-section of land at $35 an acre is about $840, which is quite an item on a $5,000 transaction, while the ready money thus put into circulation is having a beneficial effect throughout the west, both on investments and general trade.

Predicts Rush Into
Peace River Area

Oil Fields Greatest in World Says Lieut.-Col. J. K. Cornwall

Ottawa.—The summer of 1920 promises to see the greatest rush into the Peace River country that has ever been seen into any section of Canada, is the prediction of Lieut.-Col. J. K. Cornwall, who is here conferring with government departments in connection with matters of interest to the north country. Col. Cornwall, probably the best known figure in Peace River, and a trapper and trader of 25 years' activities in the north, has been attending the fair sale at Montreal, where prices soared to a point that placed the fair industry of Peace River on a new high pedestal. "Watch the Peace River this year," said the enthusiastic Colonel, "will there be oil discovered?—I certainly expect so. As a matter of fact, my opinion is that the year 1920 will see the opening in that north country of the greatest oil fields in the world. Texas, in my view, will virtually fade away in comparison with the result that this fall and early Spring the Peace River country will be the throes of an oil stampede into the north that has had no precedent in this continent."

Here I've had my nose broken in two places. Sweet Thing: Well, you shouldn't have gone into those places.

Foster's Weather Forecast

The heavy horizontal line represents normal temperature. The zig-zag line is the predicted movement of temperatures up and down. Dates at the top are for their time at meridian 90. If you are east of that line these weather features should reach you one or two days later; if west of it one or three days earlier. The 1 marks date of warm wave's arrival at meridian 90.

Warm waves will reach Vancouver about March 24, 30, April 6, 11 and temperatures will rise on all the Pacific slope. They will cross crest of Rockies by close to 25. 21, April 7, 12, plains sections 24, April 1, 8, 13, meridian 90, Great Lakes, lower Mississippi valleys, Ohio-Tennessee valleys 27, April 2, 9, 14; eastern sections 28, April 4, 11, 16. Storm waves will follow about one day behind warm waves and cool waves about one day behind storm waves.

Including the storm predicted to reach meridian 90 near March 22, these disturbances will control North American weather from near March 20 to April 16. Last date will be most severe and will be followed by a northern cold wave that will carry frosts further south than usual. The valuable warnings, given through these bulletins, of the severe storms to occur during the weeks centering on January 19, February 6 and March 8, are sufficient justification for the unusual general interest being expressed by the thousands from middle provinces of Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast. From all these sections I received 3,500 letters during January and February. Foster's weather forecasts are sweeping over the continent like a prairie fire, but doing good instead of damage. You should reread the descriptions of the last great storm written six weeks before it came.

The long crop weather period is now in full force and will continue to end of April. The general wet and dry spots are now fairly well located for April and the most excessive precipitation is expected around the Great Lakes and least to the northwestern of Central Texas. Most precipitation is expected during the weeks indicated for most severe storms.

The North Atlantic ocean, east of this continent, is covered by a high barometer, in the center of which is a downpour of fresh, pure air, containing very little moisture. When that air strikes the ocean waters it picks up moisture and carries it to the low barometers or storm centers that come from the northwest part of the continent and move eastward. Two sets of storm centers, called low pressure systems, move through that high the center part of which is known as the Sargasso Sea. One set of these storm centers moves eastward across the Atlantic north of the Sargasso Sea and the other set, called tropical storms, move westward between the Sargasso Sea and the earth's equator. These tropical storms sometimes develop into hurricanes which move westward south of Cuba, and turn to eastward, passing north eastward near the east coast of North America. These tropical storms largely control the weather of our south eastern states, while storms that come from the northwest part of the continent largely control the weather between Blue Ridge and the Rockies.

The Order in Council enforcing the vaccination of school children is being carried out with very little opposition.

Mrs. Bruce who recently moved her millinery stock of goods to more commodious quarters on Victoria Ave., held her spring opening on the 18th, which was well attended by the ladies of Creston and adjoining towns.

O. A. Lindquist, passed through Creston one day last week enroute to his farm on the prairie, he reports spending a pleasant winter in Deer Park.

The Valley still holds some enticements for the prairie farmer. Two cars of household goods from near Raymond, were unloaded a few days ago and Mr. Earle from the same place is expected to arrive with a carload next week.

The saw mill operated by Mr. Wiggins started work Monday at Duck Creek. We understand, Mr. Wiggins's Mill will start as soon as the water runs sufficient to float the logs.

Harvey Morris and family moved to their farm near Winnifred last week, having just recovered from a severe attack of the flu, we wish them success in their farming ventures the coming season.

PLAYETTE "JAUNT JEMIMA MONEY" Cast of Characters

Aunt Jemima Mrs. McCartin Sarah Bonner (the maid) Mrs. Cullen Kate Lowrey (a niece) Mrs. McKenna Mary Lowrey (a niece) Miss E. Leary chorus (The Bells of St. Mary) by the choir.

The Rev. Father Fitzpatrick gave a very interesting Lecture on the Life and Times of St. Patrick, the Patron Saint of Ireland; the Rev. Father also dealt on these present untimely times in Ireland and said "they would be fully satisfied, if they had the same freedom as we have in Canada" and we believe that they should enjoy the same measure of freedom as we have, it is only fair and just.

Some crying babies at times spoiled some of the terms.

Why don't people keep small babies at home, public entertainments are no place to bring them, the most kind and loving thing to do with them, is to have them snugly sleeping in their own little cots at that time of night and not out disturbing people at a public entertainment?

BATEMAN BROSThe Store that Saves You MONEY*MAIN STREET, BOW ISLAND*Burdett News

From our own Correspondent

Fielding at Burdett can now arrange for Farm Loans at short notice. It is to your advantage to consult him before making application elsewhere.

Loudie Shung's store was full of customers last week, they were remodeling it. He is getting ready for the spring rush.

Win. Owen has been quite ill for the last two weeks, he has gone to his son-in-law south of Burdett for a rest. It is hoped his cherry face will soon be seen in town again; son Harold is looking after the school during his absence.

Large quantities of hay, seed and feed have been hauled from Burdett this week. Horses are in poor condition to start the spring work but the large quantities of feed which the Municipalities are shipping in should rectify this.

Emerson Brown has returned to his farm where his family have been all winter, having rented the Hotel to Mr. and Mrs. Rygg from Billings Montana. Mrs. Rygg is an experienced Hotel Manageress and all indications point to the travelling public finding this a most comfortable place at which to stay.

Recently several farm loan companies have been sending their representatives into the district to find out the position of the farmers. This District has not been favoured by some of the late years but we know several have been impressed and are ready to do business so Mr. Farmer will be able to get an advance if needed.

Great sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sandy owing to the long and trying illness of their son Deibert, he is a bright lad and it is hoped he will be spared to them.

Rev. Mr. Cook is again in charge of the Methodist Church, he reports that he has left his wife in improved health at the coast. Unfortunately he is obliged to go to Taber temporarily to help his son's farm as the young man has been laid aside with an old sickness again. However he is taking his regular Sunday duties.

The Boy Scout movement is quite strong in Burdett this spring, money has been freely subscribed towards starting a troop and a visit from the Chief Commissioner for Southern Alberta is being arranged for in order that plans for the coming year may be completed. The boys deserve a bumper attendance to an evening entertainment they are arranging for the near future and of which notice will be given in this paper.
